Art Unit: 2652

1. The amendment filed 8/29/01 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: the insert in the specification on page 16.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

2. Claims 21-34 are rejected under 35 USC 112, first and second paragraphs, as the claimed invention is not described in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to make and use the same, and/or for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention.

The specification, as originally filed (see page 5 lines 22-24) clearly stated that the air bearing surface had two raised side rails and a rear center rail. The insert added on page 16, which adds new matter, changes this definition.

It is unclear, in view of the changes and comments made in the amendment, what structures are encompassed by the recitation of "air bearing surface" in these claims.

These claims are inadequately disclosed under 112 par.1 if claim 1 is read to encompass more or less than the two side rails and one rear center rail defined for the air bearing surface. There simply is no adequate disclosure of other rail configurations. The mere statement that other configurations could be used is not adequate disclosure.

Alternatively, these claims are indefinite and incomplete. The recitations in claim 1 conflict with the statement in the specification defining the air bearing surface. It is unclear how many rails are being claimed, and where they are located.

3. Applicant's arguments filed 8/29/01 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the cancellation of recitations of raised side rail overcomes the previous 112 rejection. The Examiner does not agree. The addition of the new matter on page 16, plus Applicant's remarks concerning alternative configurations for the air bearing surface, makes the meaning of that recitation unclear.

It is the Examiner's position that there only adequate disclosure is for an air bearing surface having two raised side rails and a rear center rail. That is all that is shown in the drawings and discussed in the originally filed specification.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
